THE WORD

National Treasures.

Curl up with a book this ANZAC long weekend. We ask seven personalities for their recommendations

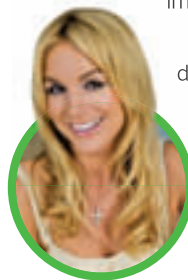

PAUL BISHOP, who starred in the TV series Blue Heelers, is appearing in the Queensland Theatre Company's 2008 productions The August Moon and The Importance of Being Earnest

Aussie Soldier shares tales of bravery, courage and compassion that go deep into the hearts and minds of soldiers, revealing the unique larrikin nature that characterises our national identity. Aussie Soldier is a revealing insight into a very challenging human experience and shows both how resilient and fragile we are in the face of war. Published by BigSky Publishing Pty Ltd, ISBN 9780980325119.

NATALIE MICHAELS, TV presenter for MTV and Sky News, as well as author of The MENagerie, due for release in autumn

Great Houses of Australia: 50 Homes with a Story to Tell takes you inside some of Australia's most breathtaking estates. You can imagine you're an heiress, sun-baking on the jetty of your luxurious Point Piper villa, or drinking afternoon tea at your country estate in Bellevue Hill. This book will delight anyone with a passion for architecture and design. Published by Cameron House (Bookwise International), ISBN 9781920743567.

TARA RUSHTON, actress appearing in the cult phenomenon internet soap, Kate Modern

I absolutely love The Thorn Birds, not only because I found it incredibly moving but also because of the vivid picture Colleen McCullough paints of rural Australia in the early 20th century. I was captivated by Meggie, who fell into such a consuming and ill-fated love that I couldn't help but cry with her. One of the great Australian romance novels. Published by HarperCollins, ISBN 9780732282240.
